

S-L-I-C-E the IELTS

The program starts with simpler and shorter IELTS tests for all four skills, progressively increasing in difficulty and length until students reach the standard level. Listening and reading tests are taken from valid IELTS books and adjusted accordingly. In writing, students focus on one task type at a time, learning to write paragraph by paragraph. Speaking practice begins with short talks and progresses to discussions, followed by analysis of real interview samples.

1) A complete study plan for 3 months (specified week by week)

2) Tests are given from short to medium and then large (standard)

3) Tests get more standard as the course continues

4) Focusing on a specific question type (reading), section (listening), task (writing), part (speaking)

5) Covering a large number of books within the 3 months (about 15 books)

6) Lesson and strategy handouts for each question type, task, and section
